

Healing Mantras: Sacred Chants from India

The yogic healing arts of India - a tradition that dates back at least 5,000 years - postulate that all illness is the result of a disturbance in the prana, or human energy field. On Healing Mantras, Shri Anandi Ma, respected master of the Kundalini Maha Yoga lineage, chants three mantras said to reestablish balance specifically on the level of the prana. These chants can, according to the traditional understanding, impart a powerful healing impulse to the entire human system - body, mind, and spirit. The chants are performed with Dileepji Pathak, accompanied by tamboura, flute, and violin.
