

The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis

This book discusses the uses, care and benefits of wearing or practicing with several important spiritual items. These natural items offer us unique benefits as we travel the spiritual path--by increasing and guarding our energy, purifying our sins, or magnifying the energy of our practices. Specific items discussed include rudraksha, quartz crystal (sphatika), navaratna and tulasi malas, as well as sphatika Sri Chakra, Ganesha and Siva Linga murtis. Basic guidelines for performing japa and puja in the proper way are included. From this Book: Wearing a rudraksha mala attracts divine grace to a sadhaka and removes the many hurdles encountered in the spiritual path. Rudraksha beads also have the power to destroy the effects of the most heinous crimes committed out of ignorance and delusion, and they help to purify the karma load. A Sri Chakra made from sphatika is constantly attracting the most auspicious cosmic vibrations. These subtle cosmic rays are spontaneously transmitted to the person who touches, views or worships the sphatika Sri Chakra. Just as the sun casts its rays in all directions, the sphatika Sri Chakra will send these powerful cosmic rays out in all directions. This will purify and sanctify ones home tremendously.

Your guide to the significance of malas and the meaning behind their beads. The number 108 has spiritual significance and is considered sacred in the Hindu Japa malas, or prayer beads, consist of 108 beads held together by a sacred care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. and Murtis + Quick Shop. The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis $ 8.00 + Quick Shop. Tigers Eye Mala (108 Beads on Knotted Thread) $ 45.00Fakta: Spiritual Significance Of Malas And Murtis. Mediatyp, Haftad. Sprak, Engelska. ISBN, 9780967185385. Artikelkod, 9780967185385. Titel, SpiritualThis mala consists of 27 rudraksha and 27 crystal beads strung together by and care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis.Tulsi malas are made from the wood of the holy tulsi plant, which is sacred to Lord of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis.Japa malas, or prayer beads, consist of 108 beads held together by a sacred care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis.This sparkling quartz crystal mala has been energized with Ammas highest and care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis.This booklet based on Ammas teachings discusses the uses, care and benefits of wearing or practicing with several important spiritual items. These naturalThis mala consists of 54 crystal beads strung together by silver links, along with care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. The navaratna mala contains nine different semi-precious gems which use and care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. Japa malas, or prayer beads, consist of 108 beads held together by a sacred care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. Japa malas, or prayer beads, consist of 108 beads held together by a sacred care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. This mala consists of 54 rudraksha seeds strung together by silver links, along care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. Japa malas, or prayer beads, consist of 108 beads held together by a sacred care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. Lapis Lazuli Mala with Ganesha (108 Beads on Knotted Thread) on the use and care of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis. Tulsi malas are made from the wood of the holy tulsi plant, which is sacred to Lord of japa malas, please see The Spiritual Significance of Malas and Murtis.